Red River Valley Meets, and Gillham; Comic Spelling

Notice reaches me that Red River Valley Association will hold its 47th annual convention at Shreveport's Washington-Youree Hotel April 3 and 4.

Local interest in the association reached a peak when Millwood Dam approached the construction stage, and probably waned after the dam and reservoir became realities. But some like your editor have kept on paying membership dues, feeling it will always be necessary to back this lobby group and its navigation and water resource goals.

Right now the Red River Valley Association is beginning to see daylight on the proposal to bring navigation up Red River to Shreveport. We are vitally interested, because once navigation is established to Shreveport the next stage might bring it to Fulton, the historic head of navigation in frontier days.

Another issue which the convention will take up, no doubt, is Gillham Dam on the Cossatot River. This half-completed project has ground to a halt after a federal expenditure of millions because misguided wild-river advocates obtained a court injunction.

Your editor spoke up for the wild rivers in the case of the Gilbert Dam which was proposed for the Buffalo River, and the dam was never started. But the Cossatot is no Buffalo, as far as water is concerned, and zealots who did nothing before the dam was started had no business intervening when the project was half-finished.

We need Red River Valley Association's help in this case to overcome a multi-million-dollar waste of federal tax dollars.

Lenora Williamson's "Catch Lines" column in the current issue of Editor & Publisher, New York, our trade publication, carries an amusing account of publication spelling "busts." Here's the E. & P. story:

THE CASE OF THE SPELLING INCIDENT—That January 29 Catch-lines story about the journalism student who spelled "mister-meander" "mister-meander" struck a responsive chord from Ontario to Texas. Larry Perks, director of editorial training for the Hamilton Spectator in Canada writes that he got a letter from a local student asking for details on the "law of liable." Larry restrained himself from answering that the inquiry was "contempt of tort."

Executive editor Don Boyett of the Beaumont (Texas) Enterprise and Journal writes he got a chuckle out of reading the "mister-meander" item especially since only the day before he received from the personnel department results on a spelling test taken by a job-seeker. The test included 50 words. Adds Don: "The applicant misspelled 32 of them and the girl administering the test made the following notation: '50 minus 32 equal 17 write.'"

Pryor Greeting Visitors

Congressman David Pryor, center, greets visitors to Red River Vocational Technical School for a rural life conference. Mr. Pryor, who announced as a candidate for the U.S. Senate less than a week ago, was principal speaker.

He suggested committees be called Residents United for Rural Arkansas Living (RURAL) and feels rural residents should have a promising job and all conveniences and services provided urban areas. He said rural planning for the state "cannot take the form of a hard and fast plan developed by a bureaucrat in the Agriculture Department. 'Only you can solve the problems and lift the faces and spirits of your respective areas'". Mr. Pryor pledged his wholehearted support to rural development.

Garland Medders

City Manager Resigns

At an executive session of the Board of City Directors following the regular meeting Tuesday night, Mayor Sam Strong announced that Garland Medders plans to retire as city manager. Mayor Strong read the following letter.

Dear Dr. Strong:
I should like to retire from my position as City Manager. This comes as a rather difficult decision. While we think about it a lot, I suppose no one is ever ready to retire.

The years I have spent with the City of Hope have been most interesting and I have had some excellent people to work with as City Directors. It seems that the many years of struggling to make Hope a good place to live and one that would grow is finally paying off. We are confronted with some exciting growth and development. This is one reason why I believe it is a good time to employ a new City Manager. He will be meeting some challenges that can be immediately rewarding, and we, it would seem, are due some new federal programs to aid community development.

I am intensely interested in the continued development of Hope and want to make the transition of this position in a way that will be smooth and produce the best possible results. I want to thank you and the present Board of Directors, along with the many other fine, dedicated people with whom I have been privileged to work.

This was a most difficult decision and I can hardly realize I am actually making it. I did not include this item on the agenda since I wanted you to handle the announcement in whatever way you felt was best.

With the very highest personal regards, I am,

Sincerely yours,
Garland Medders

Mayor Strong and other members of the Board expressed their appreciation for the many years of dedicated service Garland had given to this job, and the many improvements in the city organization that have taken place under his direction. The Board took no official action on the request, but discussed how to approach the problem of securing a capable replacement.

Militant Angela Davis Makes Bail

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP) — Black militant Angela Davis has been freed on $102,500 bail and is expected to spend her first day in more than 16 months outside jail walls at a secret hideout in Santa Clara County.

The 28-year-old Communist and former UCLA philosophy instructor smiled and gave a clenched fist salute as she emerged from the county jail here Wednesday night after $2,500 in cash and a $100,000 surety bond were posted.

About 75 supporters—some cheering, some weeping—greeted her in a drizzling rain. Miss Davis entered a car which immediately sped off. She made no statement but called a news conference for later today in San Jose.

Superior Court Judge Richard E. Aronson, who will preside at her trial on murder, kidnap and conspiracy charges starting Monday, set bail during a closed hearing Wednesday afternoon.

Miss Davis' attorneys argued that she had been denied bail solely on the grounds that she was charged with offenses carrying a possible death sentence. Since the California Supreme Court outlawed the death penalty last Friday, they said, there was no further reason to deny her bail.

Legion Meet Here Tuesday

Dee Coffee, Commander of Leale Huddleston Post 12 of The American Legion, announced that Department Chaplain, The Reverend George Fletcher, will have the program at the potluck dinner meeting to be held on Tuesday, February 29, 1972, at 7:00 p.m., in the Douglas Building, 720 Texas Street, Hope, Arkansas. Chaplain Fletcher has recently returned from a trip to the Holy Land and will tell about this trip in his talk.

Commander Coffee urges all members and their ladies to attend this meeting and invite their Pastors and wives to be their guests as to meet and hear Chaplain Fletcher.

Can't Withhold Rent for Repairs

By BARRY SCHWEID
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Tenants seeking a constitutional right to hold back on rent until the landlord repairs their house or apartment have suffered a setback in the Supreme Court. "The Constitution does not provide judicial remedies for every social and economic ill," said Justice Byron R. White Wednesday in upholding most of an Oregon eviction law.

The case was brought by a Portland couple, Donald and Edna Lindsey, whose $100-a-month house was declared unfit for habitation by city officials in 1969. When the landlords wouldn't fix things the Lindseys held back the rent. They were ordered evicted. The Lindseys' defense was that they have a constitutional right to remain in the house without paying rent until the house is made habitable.

At least four states—New York, Illinois, Massachusetts and Pennsylvania—have, by law, authorized tenants to withhold rent in certain situations. Most of the others do not.

The nub of White's opinion is that legislatures are free to give tenants this protection—or to rigorously protect the landlord's property, as Oregon does.

The decision gave the Lindseys a partial victory, however. The court knocked out a provision of the state law that requires tenants to post a double-bond while appealing an eviction.

Justice William O. Douglas and William J. Brennan dissented from the bulk of the ruling. Douglas said the Oregon law was a vestige of feudal, agrarian society and that to put a tenant "into the street when the slum landlord, not the slum tenant, is the real culprit deprives the tenant of a fundamental right."

Brennan thought the state law needed more clarification from an Oregon court.

In a second ruling the court approved the recount former Rep. Richard L. Roudebush has been seeking in Indiana since his 1970 loss to third-term Sen.

Vance Hartke.

Justice Potter Stewart, announcing the 5-2 decision, said the Senate still is the final judge of who is to hold the seat.

Hartke, a Democrat, edged Roudebush, a Republican, by 4,383 votes in the closest election in Indiana history. The recount involves balloting in 464 precincts in 11 counties.

A third ruling protected employees from discharge for making statements against their boss to examiners from the National Labor Relations Board.

The unanimous decision, given by Justice Harry A. Blackmun, was in the case of four men fired by a Springfield, Mo., electrical contractor.

Kleindienst Approved by Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Judiciary Committee today unanimously approved President Nixon's nomination of Richard G. Kleindienst to be attorney general.

The committee's action on a 13-0 vote finally cleared the way for Senate confirmation of the 48-year-old Arizona native. The Senate next week, possibly by the time Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell's resignation becomes effective March 1.

The committee also unanimously approved the nomination of L. Patrick Gray III of New London, Conn., to succeed Kleindienst as deputy attorney general.

Gray now is an assistant attorney general in charge of the Justice Department's civil division.

The committee agreed to file its report to the Senate by next Tuesday.

Terrorists Hit Again

BELFAST (AP) — Terrorist fire bombers struck twice in Northern Ireland early today, razing a city hall and blasting a shop.

An armed and masked guerrilla raiding party of 10 or 12 men swept into the quiet market town of Strabane, County Tyrone, on the border with the Irish republic.

The staff had just arrived for work at the municipal center in the town of 6,000 when the gang burst through its doors.

Two Americans Killed

SAIGON (AP) — Two Americans were reported killed in action in Indochina last week—the same number as in the previous week—while the number of wounded dropped from 28 to 21, the U.S. Command announced today.

The South Vietnamese command reported 206 of its men killed and 531 wounded. The South Vietnamese command reported 637 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong killed, nearly 500 less than the previous week.

Cease-fires for the Tet festival of the lunar new year were declared during the week—96 hours by the Viet Cong and 24 hours by the allies.

It was the ninth consecutive week that the U.S. Command reported fewer than six American battle deaths.

Eight other Americans killed from nonhostile causes, the command said. This was four more than the week before.

The number of Americans missing increased by seven to 1,501. A U.S. spokesman said this probably included six U.S.

Nixon Would Crumble Wall Between People

Great Wall Amazing

By HENRY HARTZENBUSCH
Associated Press Writer

PEKING (AP) — "It's unbelievable," President Nixon said today when he looked down the Great Wall of China, and the President was right.

Built 2,200 years ago, 15 to 30 feet high, 18 feet wide at the top, it would reach from New York almost to Denver if its meanderings across Northern China were stretched out across the United States.

Although it dwarfs anything remaining from the ancient world, the astonishing engineering feat failed in its original purpose. It could not keep the barbarian invaders out.

The wall actually once was four separate walls, built by the rulers of four contending states in the waning days of the Chou dynasty when North China was cut up among squabbling feudal rulers.

When Chin Shih Huang Ti, then Prince Cheng in the state of Chin, became emperor in 221 B.C., he soon brought three contending minor vassal states to heel and linked them together.

The emperor decided to connect all the walls with his own, and the result was called Chang Cheng, meaning Long Wall. It took 18 years to build. Slave laborers and prisoners did the work and died en masse in the effort. Their remains were buried beneath the wall's foundations.

Succeeding dynasties added to the wall and kept it in repair or modified according to their needs. The rulers felt safe behind the barrier atop which soldiers could march 10 abreast. It extended all the way from the Yellow Sea, over rugged hills and mountains to the Gobi Desert without a single break.

PEKING (AP) — President Nixon visited the Great Wall of China today and called for an end to "walls of any kind between peoples." Then he met late in the afternoon with Premier Chou En-lai for their fourth session of talks.

"What is most important is that we have an open world," the President told newsmen who accompanied him to the engineering marvel built 2,200 years ago to keep out the barbarians.

"One result of this trip," Nixon continued, "we hope may be that walls erected, whether physical like this wall, or whether they are other walls, ideological or philosophical, will not divide the people of the world."

Mills Wants Hike in SS Benefits

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 20-per-cent hike in Social Security benefits is off to a strong start in the election-year Congress.

The legislation, introduced in a surprise move Wednesday by Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., would also reduce slightly this year the payroll-tax increase already planned—but would make up for it next year with a stiff hike on higher incomes.

Mills, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, asked the Senate Finance Committee to incorporate his bill in the Social Security-welfare legislation it is considering. The 20-per-cent hike would substitute for a 5-per-cent increase the House approved before sending the bill to the Senate.

Chairman Russell B. Long, D-La., of the Senate committee said his panel also will look at a proposal to insure that all Social Security beneficiaries are lifted above the poverty level.

There appears little doubt the Senate will increase the 5-per-cent raise now pending, probably at least to Mills' 20-per-cent figure.

When Mills unexpectedly introduced his proposal, Social Security hikes were being planned in the Senate and reports were circulating that the Nixon administration was preparing to recommend a substantial increase.

Mills, a contender for the Democratic presidential nomination, said he decided to sponsor an increase after accepting a finding by the Social Security Advisory Council that the system was adequately funded for larger benefits.

The measure, involving about $8 billion in benefits above present levels, would increase the average benefit from $133 to $162 a month for a retired worker, $222 to $269 for a couple, and $114 to $153 for a widow, Mills said.

The tax consequences would vary, principally for those in higher earning brackets.

Discusses Actual Cost of Tax Hike

What will the 8-mill increase cost the average taxpayer; the 8 mills which is now proposed for Hope School District 1-A?

This question was the major discussion at Wednesday night's meeting of the Public Relations & Communications Subcommittee in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lee Arrington at Oakhaven.

Other members attending the meeting were: Mrs. Nancy Morrison, Mrs. Myrtle Primus, Mrs. Troy Bass, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Worthy, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Rowland, and Mr. and Mrs. Donal Parker.

After a lengthy discussion and studying material secured from various sources, the committee found that if property is assessed at the full 20 percent, the average taxpayer would not pay over $3.00 per year for the increased 8 mills.

For example, if the value of the property is $250.00 and the assessed value is $50.00, the cost would be 40c; if the value of the property is $1000.00, assessed value is $200.00, the cost would be $1.60.

Going further up, if the value of the property is $5000.00 and the assessed value is $1000.00, the cost would be $8.00. Double that and the cost is $16.00 for a piece of property valued at $10,000.00, with an assessed value of $2000.00.

After further discussion on other projects and refreshments, the meeting adjourned. The committee will meet next Wednesday night in the home of Mrs. Troy Bass.

Skim Milk From Cows

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) — Two Pennsylvania State University scientists say it won't be long before farmers could be milking cows for skim milk, whole milk or cream.

W. Ross Silcock, a graduate student, and D. Stuart Patton, working with the National Heart and Lung Institute, say they have discovered the first direct evidence of the way skim milk is produced in cows.

"A cow produces skim milk and fat globules cream in separate production lines, but homogenizes them before she is milked," Patton explained.

The two research scientists say the skim milk is secreted from the lactating cell by complex membranes known as the Golgi vesicles.

These membranes serve to collect and package skim milk components while they are still in the cell, and then push them into the cow's "milk depot" where they are blended with the cream or fat globules, the scientists said.

There probably is no great economic desire to produce a cow that gives skim milk, considering the worth of butter fat," said Patton. He added, however, that such a cow could become desirable if the public continues to be wary of cholesterol fat, which is found in whole milk.

"If we continue to reject butter fat or cream, the energy a cow uses to produce that fat would be redirected to produce skim milk," Patton said.

"The significance of the study is aimed more at understanding the cell structure than to regulating the price or quality of milk," he said, "but after understanding the cells, we then could have cows produce more fat, more skim, more everything!"

Revolutionary Change Is Seen by Visitors

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

President Nixon's Peking visit throws a searchlight on what China's Communist leaders have said and one in recent times. There is reason to suspect that something truly revolutionary has taken place.

The revolutionary development could be that the Chinese leaders' cherished dream of world revolution has faded away.

Chairman Mao Tse-tung and Premier Chou En-lai are in their 70s. Their realization that they will never see anything even approaching revolution on a world scale could account for the remarkable reception Nixon is getting.

Some might suspect that the display for Nixon is part of an over-all strategy to advance the cause. After all, Mao was insisting only a couple of years ago that "revolution is the main trend in the world today," and was calling on all revolutionaries to "unite and defeat the U.S. aggressors and all their running dogs."

But it seems it would take much more than a strategy ploy to make the Chinese leaders pay so high a price for a change in policy. It has cost them a painful purge at the top of the ladder and posed the risk of disillusioning pro-Chinese revolutionaries everywhere else.

The Nixon visit, in fact, provides a new vantage point for exploring the murky mysteries of Chinese policies and throws new light on pronouncements of recent months.

One line of speculation is that Premier Chou, around the end of last June, took a firm grip on the helm and veered the Chinese ship of state onto a radically new course, dumping overboard some high-ranking hands in the process.

This would not mean that Chou, the patrician revolutionary Mandarin, had abandoned his leader's precepts. But there's a good chance it might mean that Mao, listening to Chou's counsel, is resigned to the long view. That would mean they could now look inward toward building China and outward toward ties that might tend to protect them during that building process.

What is now going on leaves the impression that Chou wants the Nixon meeting to have a look of success. Thus he speaks of the talks as "positive," refers to possible normalization of relations and says the gates have been opened between the two nations. The Chinese people are told about the visit in startling headlines and pictures. That could happen only on orders from the highest Peking level.

After 18 Months Priest Freed

DANBURY, Conn. (AP) — "Terrific, free!" exclaimed the Rev. Daniel Berrigan, the anti-war priest, poet and writer as he walked out of a federal prison today. He was imprisoned for 18 months.

The 51-year-old Jesuit, a simple cross hanging from his clerical collar, grinned broadly as he was cheered by nearly 200 supporters at the prison gates.

After making a few brief remarks to his supporters, Berrigan hopped into a car driven by his brother Jerome and went to a Roman Catholic church, where he conducted a religious service.

Newsman asked Berrigan what would occupy his time now that he is free on parole.

"Survival and resistance," he said.

What form will the resistance take?

"I will have to see what happens," the priest said.

Berrigan was released as his brother Philip, also a Roman Catholic priest, was on trial in Harrisburg, Pa., on charges of conspiring to kidnap presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger. Both Philip and Daniel had been sentenced to three-year terms at the federal prison here for burning draft records at Catonsville, Md., in 1968. Philip has not been granted parole.

Berrigan pledged today to live by the terms of his parole, but added: "I'll insist on my constitutional and human rights."

Asked about life in prison, Berrigan said: "It was dreadful and marvelous, depending on whose face you were looking at. I made hundreds of friends. It's a Popsicle prison, not like Attica."

How was he treated in prison?

"Normally—that is to say, like on the edge of a zoo," he said.

What did he gain from prison life?

"More gray hair and more bright thoughts," he said.

Berrigan, wearing a black coat and black shirt, said he plans to visit his mother in Syracuse, N.Y., before going to New York City.

Ex-Officer Says Deal Harsh

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Former State Police Director Ralph D. Scott said Wednesday night he thought language in a report concerning an investigation ordered by Gov. Dale Bumpers into Interlock Inc., was "rather harsh."

The investigation concluded that it was a conflict of interest for Scott and John Hickey, former director of the state Crime and Law Enforcement Commission.

mission to hold stock in the Houston, Tex., consulting firm while they occupied state law enforcement positions.

The investigators said, however, that there was no evidence that Hickey or Scott set out to "cheat or damage" the state.

Scott said he agreed with the portions of the report that he was not out to harm the state. Hickey could not be reached for comment.

The report said the state suffered no damage and that more than $600,000 in state contracts executed with Interlock for consultant work in the law enforcement and criminal justice fields were sound and "have no major defects on their face."

The investigators said another official who held stock in Interlock, State Police Director W. C. Miller, showed bad judgment in one instance.

It said a fourth official, Marshall Rush of Pine Bluff, a member of the state Board of Correction, was guilty of no impropriety in his holdings in the firm.

Interlock obtained the contracts while Hickey was directing the crime agency and while Scott, as State Police director, was a member of the commission which had to approve all Interlock agreements with the state. The firm secured contracts to perform work for the crime commission, the Department of Correction, the Department of Finance and Administration and the Little Rock police.

SS Attorney Is Indicted

LONOKE, Ark. (AP) — Ivan Smith, chief attorney for the state Social Services Division, was indicted Wednesday by the Lonoke County Grand Jury on 25 counts of being an accessory after the fact in alleged food stamp fraud cases.

The property in question is food stamps and some money, ranging in sums from $38 to several thousand dollars.

The indictment against Smith alleges that he had full knowledge of food stamp fraud cases and concealed it.

The jury also instructed Pros. Atty. Sam Weems of Des Arc to charge 25 individuals in Lonoke County with obtaining property under false pretenses.

The jury received evidence supplied by Weems, who had conducted for several months an investigation into welfare practices in his district.

Among the evidence considered by the jury were files Weems had subpoenaed from Social Services Division files.

mission to become regional director of the federal Law Enforcement and Assistance Administration. Scott, who resigned his State Police position in mid-1971, is now an official of a federally-funded project to reduce alcohol-related traffic accidents in Pulaski County.

The report said Hickey's mother bought him 500 shares but they were purchased by Interlock earlier this year.

in the city manager position.

Hope was the first city in Arkansas to organize their government under the City Manager plan, and Garland Medders was the first City Manager employed in the state. There are now 10 cities in Arkansas operated under this plan and Hope is the only community that has not had to change managers. During the years Camden and Brinkley have had five managers, Little Rock four, and Texarkana has had three. Frank Douglas, who is the only member of the original Board of Directors, and has served continuously since that time, says that a large part of Hope's progress can be attributed to the fact that there has been continuous direction from the same manager. The City Directors said they would begin to explore all possibilities of securing a competent manager. City Manager, Garland Medders, pledged to assist them in every possible way to make the changeover as smoothly as possible.

Garland Medders also works for the Hope Water & Light Commission, an independent authority, which directs the water and electric operations. When the Manager Plan was adopted, the two bodies agreed that if they could locate a person with a background of successful utility experience they would attempt to jointly employ a manager of both operations. It was felt that in this way they could make a job that would be more attractive to the type man each of them were looking for. Garland Medders had had over 20 years experience in the operation of electric utilities, about equally divided between a private power company and municipally owned systems. Mayor Sam Strong suggested that if Garland Medders would continue for a while as director of the utilities it could provide some help in the continuing plans for future development that are underway at this time. He said that he doubted they would be able to find a man with successful electric utility experience and also experience in the field of City Management. This possibility would, of course, have to be handled by the Water & Light Commission.

Separate Storms Pinch Northeast

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Two separate storm centers caught the Northeast in a pin-cers movement today, scattering snow, ice and rain from the Great Lakes to the Carolinas.

Sandwiched between the snow from the Great Lakes storm and the rain from the North Carolina disturbance was a band of freezing rain stretching from Lake Ontario across western New York and into Pennsylvania.

Heavy snow warnings were issued for northern Maine, where 6 or more inches was expected, and travel warnings were posted for the rest of New England, eastern New York, Pennsylvania and Virginia.

Cold air pushing into the northern Great Plains and upper Mississippi Valley, triggered showers and thunder-showers across the southern Midwest.

Rain also fell along the Pacific Coast from central California to Washington.

Fair weather prevailed elsewhere in the nation.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 10 below zero at Loring Air Force Base, Limestone, Maine to 68 at Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

5 Suspended at Stuttgart

STUTTGART, Ark. (AP) — Five pupils at Stuttgart High School were suspended from classes Wednesday, according to Supt. Ned Moseley.

Schools were dismissed at Stuttgart Monday because of racial tension but classes were resumed Wednesday.

Moseley said the expulsions were for allegedly using vulgar language and disrespect for faculty.

The superintendent said there was no racially-connected trouble at the school Wednesday.

Calendar of Events

Thursday, March 2

The Pat Cleburne Chapter, UDC, will meet Thursday, March 2, at the Town and Country for a 12 noon luncheon followed by a business meeting in the home of Mrs. J. W. Branch.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Ralph Formby of Patmos announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Robyn, to Ronald Ovie Blasingame, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ovie Blasingame of North Little Rock.

Robyn attended Little Rock University and is a graduate of St. Vincent School of Nursing in Little Rock.

Ronnie attended Little Rock University and is associated with Southwestern Steel System in Little Rock.

The wedding will be solemnized Saturday, March 25, at the First Presbyterian Church in Hope at 7 o'clock in the evening.

All friends and relatives are invited to attend. No cards will be sent.

P.E.O. Chapter Meets

Chapter AE, P.E.O., met Tuesday afternoon, February 22, in the home of Mrs. Edwin Stewart with Mrs. Cecil Wyatt, co-hostess. The business was conducted by the president, Mrs. Crit Stuart, Jr.

For the program, Mrs. Jewel Moore, Jr. discussed "Growth in P.E.O." Spring flowers were seen at vantage points in the home, and the hostesses carried out the George Washington birthday theme with cherry pie and coffee for refreshments.

TOPS Hold Meet

TOPS No. 94, Ar. Hope met at the Douglas Building on Monday, February 21, under the leadership of Doris Walden. The 30 in attendance included a transfer from the morning TOPS Club, Jackie Cox, and a visitor, Lou Ann Hartline.

Queen of the Week was Mildred McClellan. Sheila Halsell gave the program, "Basic Four Food Groups," followed with a quiz which Gladys Smith won. The business meeting included the minutes and roll call by the secretary, Margaret Polk.

Anyone interested in losing weight is invited to the meetings on Monday night at 7 p.m. in the Douglas Building.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — High point of the television week for adult lovers of macabre, strange and weird stories has to be Wednesday's "Night Gallery" on NBC.

In earlier days, Alfred Hitchcock's half-hour series often spun playful, mischievous horror tales: Rod Serling's contemporary approach is sober and serious, often heightening the effect. It certainly did that in the pair of eerie presentations on the hour this week.

First came a spooky story set in a primitive, famine-beset section of the British Isles, full of damp mists and strange accents. A starving man agreed, on promise of food and three gold pieces, to eat from the chest of a corpse awaiting burial.

ial. It was based on a custom called "sin-eating"—the dead man's sins were transferred with the food to another person. This jolly segment was followed by one about robots in human form programmed to perform mental functions. One vicious couple attempted to torture their pretty robot housemaid, resulting in a revolt of the machine. The revenge was a snapper ending with a Hitchcock twist.

The stories are usually beautifully cast with talented performers—Geraldine Page, Cloris Leachman and Broderick Crawford were among the actors Wednesday night, but there is a strange kind of violence about the series.

Change is in the wind at both NBC and ABC: James Stewart and "The Jimmy Stewart Show" will not return after this season. The situation comedy, a big disappointment to viewers as well as the star, never has done well.

Johnny Carson's desire to move "The Tonight Show" to Hollywood has been fulfilled. NBC has given the green light to the shift of the show's base to the Burbank studios starting May 1. All of Carson's key people, including Ed McMahon, will move with him.

This should be a break for ABC's "Dick Cavett Show" as far as booking nonshow-business guests is concerned.

Carson's departure means another loss to New York as a TV entertainment production center. Just about all that is left in the East now is a handful of daytime game shows and a number of soap operas.

School Group Studies Local Band Program

The Auxiliary Sub-Committee of the Citizens Committee for Better Quality Schools met this week in the home of Mrs. Tom Buchholzer. Other members present were Wanda Duncan, Elaine Burch, Ruth Felder, Doyle Shields, Don Gilbert, Wesley Huddleston, and Chairman Bill Gunter.

The Committee discussed the band program which had been investigated during the week. They found the band program itself to be satisfactory but there is a lack of many necessary facilities. Foremost is the need of 3 to 5 soundproof rooms and a soundproof office. This would enable more than one student to practice at once, and also lessons could be given simultaneously.

The Hope High Band will enter Region Concert Contest in the near future. However, if they qualify for State, and 8th month school year will prevent them from participating, as Hope Schools will be closed.

With an expectant enrollment next year of 80 to 90 in Senior High Band and 50-60 in Junior High Band, there is a need for an assistant band director. This would also make possible a band program at Hopewell. This is the most desirable age to introduce PEKING (AP) — When President and Mrs. Nixon visited the 500-year-old Ming tombs outside Peking today, they found scores of apparently holidaying Chinese carrying new transistor radios and sporting colorful garb the First Family had not seen elsewhere in the country.

After the Nixons left, functionaries went among the people, collecting the radios.

As the President and Mrs. Nixon approached the tomb of the Emperor Chang Ling, they paused to watch four Chinese schoolgirls singing and jumping rope. The Nixons beamed, shook hands and chatted with the four youngsters and the two women who held the rope for them. As soon as the Nixons turned to enter the tombs, the little girls took off the bright ribbons around their pigtails, rolled up their rope and departed.

At one outdoor concrete picnic table just below the towering pagoda of the tombs, two couples played cards in the 27-degree cold while American

Wedgie Season

Spring shoes will be a return to the wedgie. They'll feature open toes, or sling-backs, or high platforms, or ankle straps. But for this delicate season with the classic-tailored clothing that will come with it, the shoes will be softer-looking with light pastels to brighten things up.

To Head Cancer Drive

MRS. THOMPSON IMPSON

Mrs. Thompson Impson, Rosston Road, Hope, has been named Chairman for the American Cancer Society's 1972 educational and fund-raising Crusade in Hempstead County.

The Crusade will begin April 1. The appointment was announced by Louis L. Ramsay, Jr., of Pine Bluff, state Chairman for the American Division of the Society.

The theme of the Crusade is, "WE WANT TO WIPE OUT CANCER IN YOUR LIFETIME," Mrs. Impson said, and every dollar that is given will help support vital programs of public education, research and patient services.

Through the Society's Service Program, people who are stricken with cancer are provided with hospital beds, wheel chairs and other items to help their families take care of them at home. Material for educational programs is also provided for schools, clubs and civic organizations, Mrs. Impson stated.

Services and material may be obtained by writing direct to the Division Office of the American Cancer Society, P.O. Box 3822, Little Rock, Arkansas 72203.

Helen and Sue Bottel The Generation Rap

PARANOID PARENTS A PROBLEM

Dear Helen And Sue:

I am a 15-year-old guy and the only one left at home. My brother ran off to join the Navy because he couldn't take any more from my parents. My 17-year-old sister ran away two years ago. We don't know where she is or even if she's alive. She was on drugs before she left, so my parents think I am too.

They have always been the kind that don't trust you and would rather beat on you than listen. I swear I don't even do grass: After seeing my sister fall apart, I'm not that dumb! But they go through my room every week, take everything out of my dresser drawers, check all my pants pockets, tear apart my clothes closet and search my personal belongings—even read my mail to see if they can find something on me.

Any time I receive a phone call, they listen on the extension. If I go outside to talk to a friend, they ask what we were hatching up, and if I don't answer, it's the belt. If I do answer, they accuse me of lying.

What can I do, besides run away, too? —PAYING FOR OTHERS' MISTAKES
Dear Paying:

Is there a relative or close friend of the family who wouldn't be afraid to tell your parents how wrong they are? If not, call the drug help center in your town. A counselor there might take on the job—for surely a paranoid family is as much a drug problem as if the child were truly on dope.

It's evident you can't talk to your folks, but perhaps a letter, written by either you or your brother (or both) could get through to them.

What a shame that this kind of jailer seldom realizes until too late that HE is the culprit, not his prisoner. —HELEN AND SUE

Dear Rap:

My mother and I fight over nothing. Here's an example:

We were riding in the car and Mom remarked it's too bad so many teachers are out of work. Trying to agree with her sort of, I said I wouldn't want to be someone ordinary anyway—I want a different career.

She flared up with, "What do you mean by 'ordinary'?" I answered, "Female stuff, like secretaries or grade school teachers—common jobs most girls end up with."

She said, "You can't be something just because it's different!" and we ended up

WASHINGTON (AP)—A $100,000 grant from the Office of Job Development has been approved for use by Arvac Inc. of Dardanelle for a Home Start program, Rep. John Paul Hamerschmidt, R-Ark., said.

The program is aimed at educating parents. The program is to serve Franklin, Scott, Yell, Johnson, Logan, Pope, Conway and Perry counties.

yelling at each other again. I love my mother. What causes these fights? —L.T.J.

Dear L.: Sometimes just a half-pitch higher in the voice is enough to start an argument. Maybe you sounded condescending when you answered that first question on what is "ordinary." (Is your mother by any chance a secretary or teacher?)

Too often we expect our parents to understand exactly what we mean the first time we say it, and when they take us wrong we feel hurt, so we snap back at them—and the fight starts.

Try a little more patience and I think your mother will, too! —SUE

Dear L.: This is a switch! Sue, a teenager, took your mother's side, while I see the problem more from your angle—perhaps because I know how I sometimes react, unless I catch myself up very short.

You see, parents often jump on the "smallest" remark as a springboard for a lecture. Instead of listening, your mother may almost unconsciously start a defensive action—which inspires your counterattack that starts with the slightly raised voice and ends in an all-out fight.

Note to L's Mother: You being oldest and wisest should hit the patience button first! —HELEN

NCAA Sues Pro ABA in Villanova Case

By ROBERT MOORE
Associated Press Sports Writer
KANSAS CITY (AP) — A $216,663 damage suit has been filed by the National Collegiate Athletic Association against the American Basketball Association and Howard Porter, former All-American at Villanova University.

The legal action is designed to stop the ABA from secretly signing college players before they complete their eligibility.

The NCAA filed the suit Wednesday in Common Pleas Court in Chester, Pa., and asked the court to order the ABA to notify the NCAA and the school involved within 24 hours after a player with remaining eligibility signs an ABA contract.

In addition to the injunction, the NCAA seeks general and special damages totaling $116,663 from the ABA and Porter and $100,000 exemplary damages from Porter.

Walter Byers, NCAA executive director, said the $16,663 represents out-of-pocket expense to the NCAA for investigating the Porter case and the additional $100,000 is "being sought because of damage to the association's reputation as to its ability to enforce our eligibility rules and to the integrity of the NCAA's national tournament."

Porter, who now plays for the Chicago Bulls of the National Basketball Association, led Villanova to second place in the national finals last March at Houston. He was selected as the tournament's most valuable player.

After it was determined Porter had signed an ABA contract Dec. 16, 1970, and was assigned to the Pittsburgh club, Villanova vacated its second place finish in the tourney and forfeited its share of the receipts amounting to $78,347.84.

Byers said at a news conference that Porter had sworn in an affidavit dated Feb. 4, 1971, that he had not signed a contract and that Jack Dolph, ABA commissioner, had denied to the NCAA and Villanova officials that Porter had been placed under contract.

Both Porter and a spokesman for Dolph said they had no comment about the NCAA's action.

The NCAA hinted it is also investigating Jim McDaniels, who starred for Western Kentucky, the tournament's third place team.

McDaniels, who recently jumped from the ABA Carolina Cougars to the NBA Seattle Club, allegedly signed with the ABA team Nov. 30, 1970. Byers said McDaniels also signed an affidavit he was not under a pro contract.

Blunt Man Top Seeded

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Blunt Man, top-weighted at 118 pounds with jockey Larry Snyder aboard, heads a field of older horses in today's $8,000 feature at Oaklawn Park.

Expected to give Blunt Man the most trouble over the six furlong course is Olen Sledge's Al's Runner with Anthony Rini aboard. Al's Runner will carry 116 pounds.

The race, for 4-year-olds and upward, is dubbed the Matchem race.

Also in the field will be Red Tamao carrying 112 pounds and Satin Gold at 113.

Others nominated include Greybrook, 115; Pepper Man, 109; Witches Cry, 113; Fleet Grounded, 112; Run for Tom, 110; Waco Rico 113; Dee Mzee, 116; Multiplicate, 115; The Great J.I.G., 116; Pretell, 113, and Easy Drive 115.

In Wednesday's feature, N.M. Hart's Minni Singer staved with odds-on favorite Sot More from start to finish and finally won down the Gus Blass-owned 4-year-old favorite to win the $8,500 purse by a half length.

Minni Singer ran the 5 1/2 furlongs in 1:07 1-5 on a fast track.

The filly paid $20.20, $4.20 and $3.40. Sot More returned $2.40 and $2.40 and Schlissel paid $3.60 to show.

The daily double, Bosun's Strike with Phil Grimm aboard in the first and Wandering Yoso ridden by Terry Barnes in the second, No. 7 and 4, paid $97.20.

The crowd of 9,660 wagered $914,825.

Knew Colt Was Special

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Trainer Peter Salmen Jr. knew Whitesburg was something special the day the colt won the Bashford Manor stakes at Churchill Downs.

"He had plenty of excuses, but he won anyway," Salmen said. "He came out of the No. 1 hole and got bumped into the rail three times. He came from way out of it to win. At the 1-16 pole, you could tell he was hurting, but he had the courage to win it."

Whitesburg, son of Crimson Satan, hasn't raced since that day last May. He will return to competition Saturday in the $20,000 Southwest Handicap at Oaklawn Park.

"This horse is big, more than 16 hands," Salmen said. "He was almost that big last year and not too many horses are that big that early in the spring. We turned him out because we thought he was a Kentucky Derby prospect."

Salmen says Whitesburg is such a competitor that he probably would have hurt himself if asked to run again in 1971.

"This horse gives 100 per cent every time he runs," Salmen said. "If we had asked him to give more than he was really up to he would have tried. When you have a horse of this caliber you want to run him for the big money."

Whitesburg, the property of Peter Salmen Sr.'s Crimson King Farm in Lexington, Ky., won three of four races last year. He broke his maiden in his first outing, winning a stakes race by eight lengths and coming within one-fifth of the track record at Florida Downs.

Richie Allen to Get $100,000

By ALEX SACHARE
Associated Press Sports Writer
The Chicago club judges Richie Allen on what he does for us on the field," White Sox manager Chuck Tanner declared last winter, after the Chisox dealt pitcher Tommy John and infielder Steve Hentz to Los Angeles for the 29-year-old slugger.

The Chicago club must be expecting a lot.

Allen agreed Wednesday to a 1972 contract for more than $100,000 making him the highest-paid player in the White Sox' 71-year history. He is expected in Chicago's Sarasota, Fla. training camp within the next few days for formal signing.

Allen, who spent seven tempestuous seasons with the Philadelphia Phillies, will be playing for his fourth club in four seasons. He hit 23 home runs and drove in 90 runs with the Dodgers in 1971.

While Allen was presumably content, a couple of other prominent American League sluggers were not—at least, not yet.

Harmon Killebrew is one of eight Minnesota Twins still unsigned, while Frank Howard is not expected in the Texas Rangers' training camp for "quite a while," according to general manager Joe Burke.

After a big year—44 homers, 126 runs batted in—in 1970, Howard received a $120,000 contract. Now he's coming off his least productive season in five years—26 homers, 83 RBI and a

.279 batting average—and the club is asking him to take the maximum 20 per cent pay cut.

Howard, meanwhile, is asking for a raise.

San Francisco pitchers Juan Marichal and Jerry Johnson remained absent from camp, although manager Charlie Fox said he spoke with Marichal by phone from Santo Domingo and "Juan assured me there would be no trouble over the contract."

The World Champion Pittsburgh Pirates came to terms with pitcher Nelson Briles, for about $50,000. He was the last Pittsburgh player to sign. Briles was 8-4 for the Bucs and also defeated the Baltimore Orioles in a World Series game.

Elsewhere, the Atlanta Braves signed veteran knuckleballer Phil Niekro; reliever Sparky Lyle agreed to terms with Boston, and veteran Steve Hargan, who slipped to a 1-13 record last year, came to terms with Cleveland.

Rich Gleason Tourney Underway

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer
FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Almost all of golf's great names are on hand—Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus, Gary Player, Lee Trevino—but a rookie and an also-ran may be the men to watch in Jackie Gleason's $260,000 Inverrary Classic.

The inaugural of golf's richest event got under way today on the 7,178-yard, par 72 Inverrary Golf Club Course with rookie Lanny Wadkins and rebounding Marty Fleckman factors to be reckoned with in the 72-hole chase for a whopping $52,000 first prize.

Both have come very close in recent weeks and both have served notice they're ready to break through—Wadkins for the first time as a pro and Fleckman after a long, dry spell.

The 22-year-old Wadkins, a quietly-confident product of Winston-Salem, N.C. and Wake Forest, is in his first full year on the pro tour. He lost in a playoff for the title in Phoenix last Sunday and was second by a stroke the week before. He's won $36,189 so far this season, more than Nicklaus, Palmer or Trevino.

Fleckman, a darkly-hand-some 27-year-old from Fort Arthur, Tex., and the University of Houston, is in the process of playing his way out of a long, puzzling slump. He was one of the game's most ballhooped youngsters when he won the Cajun Classic shortly after turning pro in 1967.

He had a solid, $22,000 money-winning season the next year—and hasn't made expenses since then. He rarely made the cut for the final two rounds and dropped back into the ranks of the Monday qualifiers.

But he finished third, one stroke out of a playoff, last week and was fourth in the rich Hawaiian Open two weeks before that. He's picked up $25,141 already for his best money-winning season ever and more than he made in the last three years put together.

The big guns, however, drew most of the attention and the gallery. Palmer, Nicklaus and Trevino all took some time away from the tour last week and all have had some problems this season. Neither Palmer nor Trevino, bothered by poor first rounds, has won yet this year. Nicklaus won the Bing Crosby but has played poorly his last two times out.

Boxer Dies After Fight

WINNIPEG (AP) — The pre-fight medical examination of boxers was criticized Wednesday by the man who conducted the examination of light-heavyweight boxer Stewart Gray, who died after being knocked out in a title bout Monday night.

Gray, 27, of Toronto, was knocked out in the seventh round by Al Sparks of Winnipeg, the Canadian champion.

Except for a brief period early Tuesday, he was unconscious until his death Tuesday night.

Dr. J. Reid Taylor, a Winnipeg neurosurgeon who examined Gray at the pre-fight medical, said the present system of examination is impractical.

He said doctors see the fighters around noon, give them a brief examination and the boxers fight that night.

"We'd have to get a week's notice before they came to be sure they got a complete history, physical and medical examination."

"It would take an awful lot of work and reconsideration and redoing of the whole plan to give them a complete physical."

"We'd have to be able to spend a day or two, preferably two, to give them the works."

Secret Big 10 Meets

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Athletic directors of the Big Ten Conference were meeting behind closed doors today to rule on the eligibility of two University of Minnesota basketball players given season suspensions for their part in a Jan. 25 brawl with Ohio State.

Under a federal court order, the directors must reaffirm the suspensions by 6 p.m. Friday or Corky Taylor and Ron Behagen will be permitted to rejoin the Gophers immediately.

If the suspensions are upheld,

Record Setting Habit Forming

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Record-setting can be habit-forming—at least as far as the Utah Stars are concerned.

The American Basketball Association's West Division leaders collided Wednesday night with Kentucky, the East's front-runners, and busted the Colonels 133-116 for their eighth victory in a row.

And for the second successive game, the Stars came up with a record individual performance. This time it was Willie Wise, pumping in a career-high 50 points. On Monday, teammate Zelmo Beaty had set an ABA mark with 63.

In Wednesday night's other ABA action, New York edged Indiana 108-106, Carolina squeezed the Floridians 132-118 and Virginia bounced Memphis 121-105.

Wise was red hot in the first half, canning 12 of 15 shots and scoring 29 points as the Stars amassed a 71-53 intermission lead. By the end of three periods, Utah's margin had ballooned to 106-79 before the Colonels, led by Louie Dampier's 27 points, outscored the Stars 24-9 in the opening minutes of the final quarter.

A streak of eight straight games was facing the Nets—eight straight losses to Indiana—before Rick Barry, with 32 points and Bill Melchionni with 28, snapped the Pacers' string.

Indiana, with George McGinnis scoring 24 points bottled back from a 41-25 deficit to a 67-67 tie, but couldn't maintain the momentum.

The Cougars moved into a tie with the Floridians for the fourth and last playoff berth in the East as George Carter came off the Carolina bench to pump in a game-high 28 points. The Floridians held an early 43-25 lead before the Cougars went on a second-period tear. Larry Jones and Manny Leaks scored 23 apiece for the losers.

Charlie Scott had a big night for the Squires, snapping a personal week-long slump by netting 46 points to tie his own club scoring mark in the victory over the Pros. Rookie Johnny Neumann hit 24 to top Memphis, which dropped its 10th in a row.

Virginia Gunning for Top 10 Spot

By ALEX SACHARE
Associated Press Sports Writer
The buttons read "BP for President"—and if the election were held in Charlottesville, Va. along about now, he just might make it.

"BP" is Barry Parkhill; Charlottesville is the home of the University of Virginia. Ever since BP came to Charlottesville, the ol' town hasn't been the same.

Parkhill, a 20-year-old, 6-foot-4, 185-pound junior at Virginia, is a basketball player. A very good basketball player.

Last year, Parkhill sparked Virginia to a 15-11 record, the first winning season for the Cavaliers in 17 years.

This year, Parkhill and his mates have gone a step further. Virginia won 18 of its first 19 games, climbing to the No. 6 spot in the national rankings, the first time the team had ever cracked the Top Ten. After losses to Penn State and Duke, Virginia edged Clemson Monday for its 19th victory.

Wednesday night came another milestone. Parkhill and 6-10 senior Scott McCandlish scored 22 points apiece as 13th-ranked Virginia defeated Pitt 84-74, raising the Cavaliers' record to 20-3. It was Virginia's first 20-win season in 67 years of competition.

Pitt led by five points at halftime and the game was tied with 3:18 to go, but the Cavaliers poured in 14 free throws down the stretch to break the game open.

Neither coach was happy with the officiating. Five technical fouls were called, four of them on Pitt.

In other games involving Top Twenty teams, third-ranked Louisville whipped Cincinnati 93-73, No. 5 North Carolina trounced Georgia Tech 87-66, ninth-rated South Carolina overpowered Toledo 94-72 and No. 11 Florida State defeated Jacksonville 70-61.

Louisville, 20-2, jumped off to an 8-0 lead and was never threatened. Jim Price scored 25 points to lead all scorers.

"We played very well," declared Louisville coach Denny Crum. "I was especially pleased with the defense. Cincinnati is a good shooting team, but we played real aggressive defense."

North Carolina, 19-3, sank 52.9 per cent of its shots from the field and pressured outmanned Georgia Tech into 33 turnovers. Bill Chamberlain topped the Tar Heels with 24 points, but Tech's Steve Post took game honors with 25.

"It was hard to get up for this game," conceded North Carolina coach Dean Smith, "because we beat Georgia Tech by 45 points in Charlotte. We played extremely well on defense and forced Tech to take bad shots. Georgia Tech just doesn't have the rebounding strength to play with us."

Rebounding strength also helped South Carolina, 18-4, past Toledo, 16-5. Seven-footer Danny Traylor and 6-10 Tom Riker dominated the boards as the Gamecocks jumped ahead 19-5 and coasted to victory. Traylor scored 21 points and grabbed 10 rebounds, Riker had 25 points and 15 rebounds.

In a battle of independents seeking post-season tournament bids, Florida State came from behind in the final seven minutes to beat Jacksonville. The Seminoles are now 21-4 while Jacksonville's record dipped to 18-6.

In other major games, Penn State edged West Virginia 80-79 on a steal and lay-up in the final eight seconds by Chuck Crist; Al Burks scored 35 points to lift Duquesne, 18-4, past DePaul 70-65; Ron Righter sank a 19-foot jumper with 25 seconds to go in overtime to give Duke a 74-73 victory over North Carolina State, and St. Joseph's held American U. scoreless over the last 5 1/2 minutes to record a 50-53 Middle Atlantic Conference victory.

In a doubleheader at the Palestra in Philadelphia, Temple, 20-7, routed Rhode Island 108-64 and Syracuse, 18-5, rallied in the second half to overcome LaSalle 87-80.

The nations top-ranked small college team, Eau Claire State of Wisconsin, overpowered Wisconsin-River Falls 90-68 to boost its record to 20-1 and clinch at least a tie for its third consecutive State University conference crown.

Six Eau Claire players scored in double figures, Mike Ratliff leading the way with 27 points and 16 rebounds. Jack Renkens of River Falls took game honors, however, with 33 points.

foundings. J. A. West, Jr., Board of Directors Chairman, reported that the company has signed leases for two Gibson Discount Stores and three department stores to be opened in 1972.

One store, which will be approximately 30,000 feet in size, will be opened in McGhee where the company now operates a department store. Another Gibson Store is planned for LaPlace, Louisiana, which is located on Highway 61 approximately 30 miles west of New Orleans. This store will be located in a new shopping center and will be approximately 35,000 square feet in size.

A large National Food Store will be located in the center with the new West operated Gibson Discount Center. West plans to operate a full department store facility within these two Gibson Stores and at the same time maintain the complete inventory of normal Gibson Discount merchandise. Both stores are planned for early fall opening.

J. A. West Company, with headquarters in El Dorado, Arkansas, now operates a total of 11 department stores in Arkansas, Louisiana, and Texas. With the expansion for this year, the company will be operating 14 department stores and two Gibson Discount Centers by the end of 1972.

Manager of the Hope West Store is Harry Cagle who has been working for the company for 17 years, and is a vice-president in J. A. West Company of Hope. Besides the store here in Hope, the company operates stores in El Dorado (two stores), McGhee, Magnolia, Malvern, Nashville, and Harrison, Arkansas; Winnfield and Boutte, Louisiana; and Port Neches, Texas.

Dowdy Plans to Appeal

BALTIMORE (AP) — Rep. John V. Dowdy, sentenced to 18 months in prison and fined $25,000, plans a prompt appeal to his bribery conspiracy conviction.

Sentence on the Texas Democrat was passed Wednesday by U.S. District Judge Roszel C. Thomsen.

Dowdy is scheduled to begin the prison term March 6. He will remain free on personal recognizance pending his appeal.

As the sentencing proceedings ended, Dowdy's wife Johnnie, who says she will seek her husband's House seat when he retires at the end of his current term, turned to a newsmen and said:

Dowdy, 60, was found guilty Dec. 30 on all eight counts of a $25,000 conspiracy scheme in which he was accused of helping block a 1965 Justice Department probe of a Maryland home improvements firm, Monarch Construction Corp of Silver Spring.

He was convicted of two counts of bribery conspiracy, one count of causing interstate transportation of a bribe and five counts of lying to the federal grand jury in Baltimore which indicted him.

Theory Right, Time Is Relative

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Scientists who twice hauled atomic clocks around the world in 80-hour trips say they've confirmed what Albert Einstein theorized: Time is relative.

The flights also yielded new time-keeping information important to national defense, space exploration and navigation.

One of Einstein's theories of relativity holds that the time a clock measures depends on its speed relative to the earth, the stars and all other objects in the universe.

Thus, time travels more slowly for a rapidly moving object than for a stationary one.

A commonly used, theoretical example is that of twin brothers, aged 20. One, an astronaut, takes a 32-year space voyage at close to the speed of light, but by earth standards ages only 4½ years in that time. His stay-at-home brother is 52 years old when the astronaut returns to earth.

Astronomer Richard Keating and physicist Joseph C. Hafele set out to prove the Einstein theory last October when they flew around the world, first to the east and a week later to the west, with four atomic clocks in tow.

The theory implies a clock traveling eastward at the 600-mile-an-hour speed of a jet plane should show an elapsed time a fraction of a second less than that of a comparable clock that stayed home during an 80-hour global flight.

The same clock traveling westward should show an elapsed time a fraction of a second greater than that of an earthbound clock because the plane would be flying against the earth's easterly rotation.

Keating said in an interview that the first firm measurements of the trips are consistent with these projected conclusions:

—The eastward-bound clocks in effect "ran slow" by 40 billionths of a second compared with an earthbound master clock. Put another way, time contracted for the airborne clocks.

—Traveling westward, the clocks "ran fast," or time expanded, by 275 billionths of a second.

Keating said the experiment unquestionably demonstrated a

"relativistic effect," the phenomenon suggested by Einstein's theory, and marked the first time "anyone has done so while using physical clocks."

He said a major purpose of the $80,000, Navy-financed project was to test how atomic clocks behave during plane trips.

Since 1966, the Navy has transported atomic clocks to various parts of the world to help assure that the huge master atomic clock at the U.S. Naval Observatory and other clocks at U.S. military bases and National Aeronautics and Space Administration installations are synchronized.

Now that the relativistic effect has been demonstrated, it will be possible to make corrections for it, Keating said.

Enemy Attacks in Vietnam Slack

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese and Viet Cong attacks slackened off during the night, and the U.S. Command said American fighter-bombers flew no strikes in South Vietnam during the period.

U.S. military sources said there was no sign that enemy troops poised along South Vietnam's western borders with Laos and Cambodia were withdrawing. They said the Communist command was still capable of launching a major offensive.

trail in Laos, North Vietnam's supply line to the South. Sources said American warplanes were averaging 200 to 300 strikes a day against the 250-mile network.

The South Vietnamese command reported 13 enemy attacks during the 24-hour period ending at dawn today, the lowest in 2½ weeks. Since Feb. 11, enemy attacks have been averaging more than 30 a day.

South Vietnamese officers in the field said their forces killed the commander of Viet Cong troops in the two provinces south of Da Nang in an ambush just before dusk Wednesday. Officers said Lt. Col. Huynh Phuoc Thua, who commanded about 600 local force troops, was the highest ranking Viet Cong killed in the region in two years.

In the political sphere, President Nguyen Van Thieu said he would welcome a conference of Southeast Asia nations to neutralize the area.

A brief communique said Thieu offered to hold the summit conference in Saigon. He said North Vietnam would be welcome.

The communique summarized an interview which Thieu gave Wednesday to C.L. Sulzberger, foreign affairs columnist of The New York Times. Apparently Sulzberger had asked Thieu to comment on the proposal last December by ASEAN—the Association of Southeast Asia Nations—that the entire area be neutralized and the neutrality guaranteed by the big powers.

All letters must be signed, with address so you are identified to the newspaper staff, but if the character of the letter permits we will allow use of a pen-name in the publication, in which case you should add "Citizen," or some other word below your real name and address.

Pen-names are permitted when a letter deals only with issues. Direct attacks upon public officials, however, must bear the writer's name for publication.

Scrooge of Fulton

Editor The Star: You are the meanest man in the world. You have no heart, and you do not have bothered you in the least to have been at our house the morning we had to tell our children the dog they loved dearly had been poisoned. Let me tell you Mr. Scrooge I know who you are, but I cannot prove it. If I could I would spend what little money I have trying to get you behind bars, because the next time you put your poison out it might be one of the many children that played with Joe every evening after school. They loved him too. Sincerely, MRS. JIM ROWLAND

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Mrs. Dale Bumpers will kick off a mass measles immunization drive Saturday at the Governor's Mansion.

The program is sponsored by the state Health Department and various other agencies.

Enlistments Down

By ROBERT A. DOBKIN
AP Military Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite two big pay raises and choice assignments in Europe and Hawaii, the Army can't meet its enlistment quota for the combat branches, the most critical need in an all-volunteer force.

Although enlistments rose dramatically in 1971, the general who oversees the Army's recruiting efforts says the Army was unable to fill its 5,000-man monthly quota of volunteers for the infantry, armor or artillery.

"Even in January, the best recruiting month, with an all-out recruiting effort, with the new pay scale and choice of geographic assignment, we fell 1,327 men short of our goal," says Maj. Gen. Albert H. Smith.

"I assure you, nothing could have been done except to sacrifice quality," he said in an interview.

Smith contends enlistments would pick up considerably if the Army could begin paying the $3,000 combat bonus authorized by Congress last fall as part of the draft-extension act. But Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird has been reluctant to put it to use.

The bonus would go to any man enlisting in the combat arms for three years.

Laird, who will determine whether to use the bonus, told an interviewer he is waiting to see effects of the new pay raises—the first went into effect into November, the second Jan. 1—which doubled a recruit's pay to $288 a month. The Army wants the bonus put into effect next month.

Smith said preliminary volunteer figures from February are short of the Army's objectives, foreshadowing problems for March, April and May, usually the leaner recruiting months.

Army enlistments in the combat arms reached a monthly peak of 4,021 in June, plunged to 1,813 in October and climbed back to 3,673 in January. For the year, the number of men volunteering for the combat branches totaled 26,874, up from 1,200 per cent from 3,106 in 1970.

Establishes New College Criteria

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — New criteria that must be met before tax-supported colleges and universities can establish new degree programs were adopted Wednesday by the state Board of Higher Education.

The criteria will be used by the institutions in preparing their budget requests for the 1973-75 biennium and at any time a new instructional program is proposed at the bachelor's master's or doctoral level.

The chief aim of the criteria is to prevent unnecessary duplication of degree programs already in existence at other institutions. The criteria also would require the institutions to justify the need and the cost of programs they wish to institute.

The board reviewed a report which covered efforts by state-supported colleges and universities to drop existing programs for which there was no student demand. Most of the institutions believed their existing programs to be justified but about half of them recommended the deletion of at least one major field or degree and many recommended the expansion of existing programs or the initiation of new ones.

The most extensive recommendations for changes were made by Arkansas Tech at Russellville, according to the report. It recommended the elimination of 22 existing degrees or majors and the creation of four new ones.

The board authorized Dr. Olin Cook, the state director of higher education, to employ a consultant to review a plan suggested by Cook's department to provide centralized computer services for the institutions, most of which now have their own data processing equipment. An aim of the plan is to reduce computer cost.

Cook's department suggested the creation of two central centers, one on the Fayetteville campus of the University of Arkansas, and the other at Arkansas State University at Jonesboro.

DR. LAWRENCE E. LAMB Sensible Program Best Weight Loss

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—I am about 30 pounds overweight and have decided on dieting. I was informed by a friend that while dieting I should not exercise until I had reached my normal weight. I was told by another person that dieting and exercising together were an unbeatable combination. I would appreciate your opinion on which would be best.

Dear Reader—Losing excess body fat is a simple procedure of using more calories than you eat. One way of using calories is by exercising. Quite clearly, if you are able to restrict your calorie intake at the same time you are increasing your calories used, you will lose excess fat more rapidly.

When a number of people exercise, they stimulate their appetite and really don't stay on their diet. A sensible reduction in your calorie intake with a sensible exercise program maintained on a continuing basis will produce remarkable results in a period of several months. To lose 30 pounds in a sensible manner it will possibly be close to a year's project, but you can do it sensibly and comfortably if you will take the time and not try either a crash diet or a crash exercise effort.

Dear Dr. Lamb—I would like to ask a question about rheumatoid arthritis and prednisone (5 milligrams). My husband has been on that for some time. What are the effects if any on that low a dose of prednisone? He was on ACTH shots and they seemed to do him a lot more good than the prednisone. The doctor took him off them. What is in ACTH?

Dear Reader—ACTH stands for Adreno Cortico Tropic Hormone. Adreno Cortico refers to the adrenal cortex, the small gland over the kidney which produces cortisone naturally. Prednisone is a purified medicine which has many of the effects of cortisone but not quite as many adverse side effects. Tropic refers to stimulating and H to Hormone, so basically ACTH is a hormone from the pituitary gland beneath the brain (the master gland) that stimulates production of the adrenal hormone. Thus, prednisone and ACTH have similar effects.

It is usually not good to stay on high doses of cortisone, prednisone, or ACTH for arthritis. I would suspect that your doctor has changed your husband's medication to keep him from having undesirable complications and still try to help control his arthritis. These hormones must be used carefully if one is to avoid having serious complications. They do not cure the arthritis. They may relieve a person's symptoms.
